Law in Transition

XXIst Annual Forum of Young Legal Historians
6th Berg Institute International Conference
Tel Aviv, 1–3 March 2015

PROGRAM
XXIst Annual Forum of Young Legal Historians
6th Berg Institute International Conference

With the support of
The Cegla Center for the Interdisciplinary Research of Law
Entin Faculty of Humanities
Yavetz Graduate School of Historical Studies

Organizing Committee
David Schorr (Chair)
Omer Aloni
Yael Braudo-Bahat
Doreen Lustig
Dina Moyal
Anat Rosenberg

Administrative Organizers
Michal Marziano
Aya Shalom
Yarden Shir
Dalit Wasserman-Amir
Seffi Weintraub
XXIst Annual Forum of Young Legal Historians
6th Berg Institute International Conference
Tel Aviv, 1–3 March 2015

PROGRAM

Sunday, 1 March 2015

8:00-8:45  Breakfast and registration

9:00-9:50  Gathering (Kes Hamishpat Hall)

Greetings
Dr. David Schorr, Director, David Berg Institute for Law and History, Tel Aviv University
Prof. Raanan Rein, Vice President, Tel Aviv University

Keynote
Prof. Shai Lavi, Tel Aviv University, The Bleeding Cut: Jews, Muslims, and Animal Slaughter in German History

10:00-11:30  Session I
Panel 1: Law, Family, and Culture (Room 304)
Panel 2: Roman Law in Transition (Room 307)

11:30-12:00  Coffee break

12:00-13:30  Session II
Panel 3: Medieval Transitions (Room 303)
Panel 4: Economy, Society, and Law (Early Modern) (Room 307)
Panel 5: When Code Napoléon Traveled (Room 304)

13:30-14:30  Lunch

14:30-16:00  Session III
Panel 6: Early Modern Political Struggles (Room 303)
Panel 7: Codification: From Common Law to Civil Law, and Back (Room 307)
Panel 8: Criminal Law in Transition (Room 304)

16:30  Departure by bus to Beit Ha'ir (the Old City Hall of Tel Aviv)

17:00-18:00  Opening Cocktail (Beit Ha’ir)

Greetings
Asaf Zamir, First Deputy Mayor, Tel Aviv - Yafo

Keynote
Prof. Assaf Likhovski, Tel Aviv University, What Can Bialik Street Teach Us about Law in Transition?
18:00-18:30 Tour at Beit Ha’ir
18:30-20:00 Walking tour in the “White City” (Bauhaus center) at Tel Aviv
20:00-22:00 Dinner at Maganda restaurant
22:00 Bus back to the dorms

Monday, 2 March 2015

8:00-8:45 Breakfast

9:00-9:25 Keynote (Kes Hamishpat Hall)
Prof. Leora Bilsky, Tel Aviv University, Business History and Transitional Justice: The Case of Transnational Holocaust Litigation

9:30-11:00 Session IV
Panel 9: Socialist Law in Eastern Europe (Room 304)
Panel 10: Histories of International Law (Room 307)

11:00-11:30 Coffee break

11:30-13:00 Session V
Panel 11: Legal Theory in Historical Context (Room 304)
Panel 12: Legal Transplants, and Colonization (Room 307)

13:00-14:00 Lunch

14:00-15:30 Session VI
Panel 13: Ideology, Totalitarianism, and Law (Room 304)
Panel 14: Israel: From Mandate to Statehood (Room 307)
Panel 15: Public Law History (Room 303)

15:30-16:00 Coffee break

16:00-17:30 Session VII
Panel 16: Human and Labor Rights (Room 304)
Panel 17: Codification as National Identity (Room 307)

17:30-17:45 Coffee break

17:45-18:30 Closing Assembly (Kes Hamishpat Hall)

Concluding Remarks
Prof. Ron Harris, Dean, Buchmann Faculty of Law, Tel Aviv University

Annual Meeting of the Association of Young Legal Historians
Free evening

Tuesday, 3 March 2015

8:15 Gathering near Broshim dorms
8:30 Leaving by bus from the dorms to Jerusalem
10:00-16:30 Tour of Jerusalem
18:00 Back in Tel Aviv (with a stop at the airport)
Keynotes

Sunday 9:00 | Kes Hamisphat Hall

- Shai Lavi, Tel Aviv University
  The Bleeding Cut: Jews, Muslims, and Animal Slaughter in German History

Sunday 17:00 | Beit Ha’ir

- Assaf Likhovski, Tel Aviv University
  What Can Bialik Street Teach Us about Law in Transition?

Monday 9:00 | Kes Hamisphat Hall

- Leora Bilsky, Tel Aviv University
  Business History and Transitional Justice: The Case of Transnational Holocaust Litigation

Shai Lavi is a Professor of Law, and the director of the newly founded Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics and the co-director of the Minerva Center for the Interdisciplinary Study of End of Life both at Tel Aviv University. He received his Ph.D. from the Jurisprudence and Social Policy Program, University of California Berkeley. His book The Modern Art of Dying: A History of Euthanasia in the United States (Princeton University Press) won the 2006 Distinguished Book Award in sociology of law from the American Sociological Association. He was a Fulbright fellow at the University of Berkeley, California, a visiting professor at Toronto University and at Cardozo Law School, and a Humboldt fellow at the Dubnow Institute for Jewish History and Culture in Leipzig and at the faculty of law at the Humboldt University, Berlin. He is currently working on the history of Jews and Muslims in Germany focusing on the debate on animal slaughter rituals. He is a member of the National Helsinki Committee (IRB) for Medical Research. He is also a member on the editorial board of two of the leading American journals in his field, Law and Society Review and Law, Culture and Humanities Journal.

Assaf Likhovski is the Associate Dean for Research. He is the author of Law and Identity in Mandate Palestine (University of North Carolina Press, 2006), which was awarded the Yonathan Shapiro Best Book Award in Israel Studies, as well as articles on Israeli, American and English legal history. He is co-editor of a number of collections of articles on legal history including „Histories of Legal Transplantations“ Theoretical Inquiries in Law 10 (2009) (with Ron Harris). He is currently working on a book on taxation, law and modernity in British-ruled Palestine and Israel. He was visiting professor at Toronto University and at the Institute for Advanced Studies in Jerusalem and is currently an adjunct senior research fellow in the Department of Business Law and Taxation, Monash University. He was co-founder of the Israeli Legal History Association, established in 2005, and the former director of the David Berg Foundation Institute for Law and History, and the Cegla Center for Interdisciplinary Research of the Law, both at Tel-Aviv University Faculty of Law.

Leora Bilsky is a Full Professor at the Tel Aviv University Faculty of Law, and the Director of the Minerva Center for Human Rights at Tel Aviv University. She earned her LL.B cum laude from Hebrew University and an L.L.M. and a J.S.D. from Yale Law School (where she held a Fulbright award). She clerked for the Honorable Aharon Barak on Israel’s supreme court. She was a Visiting Professor at Toronto University and Amherst College, and a fellow in „Ethics and the Professions“ at Harvard University. She has served as Editor in Chief of the political theory journal Theory and Criticism, and as editor of law journals Mishpatim, Iyunei Mishpat and Theoretical Inquiries in Law. She is the author of Transformative Justice: Israeli Identity on Trial (Michigan University Press, 2004), and The Holocaust, Corporations and the Law (forthcoming, Michigan University Press).
Law, Family and Culture
Sunday 10:00-11:30 | Room 304

Inbal Blau (Chair), Tel Aviv University, Israel

- Yael Braudo-Bahat, Tel Aviv University, Israel
  Family Law in Transitional Eras: Legislative Initiatives of Israeli Women's Organizations at the First Years of Statehood

- Ayelet Libson, Tel Aviv University, Israel
  Beyond the Fault Line: Transitions in Rabbinic Divorce Law

- Gang Luo, Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne, France
  Legal Conservatism in the Process of Legal Transformation in East Asia under the Influence of Western Laws: a Comparative Observation on Modernization of Family Law in China and Japan

- Nadav Knaan, Haifa University, Israel
  The Traditional Property System of the Southeastern Indians during the 17th and 18th Centuries

---

Yael Braudo-Bahat | A Ph.D. candidate at the Zvi Meitar Center for Advanced Legal Studies, Buchmann Faculty of Law, Tel Aviv University and the Associate Editor of Theoretical Inquiries in Law. Her research, under the supervision of Prof. Leora Bilsky, focuses on the involvement of Israeli women's organizations in the enactment of the Israeli Spouses Law (Property Relations) in 1973. Along with the historical analysis, she theorizes the connection between the various possible regimes of marital property and the autonomy of the spouses within a functioning family.

Ayelet Libson | A postdoctoral fellow at the David Berg Foundation Institute for Law and History at Tel Aviv University. She holds a B.A. with honors from the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and earned her Ph.D. at New York University. Her research interests concentrate on Jewish law, legal history, legal theory, and the relationship between religion and state.

Gang Luo | A PhD candidate in Law at University of Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne. He has previously obtained a Master of Laws from China University of Political Science and Law in China, a Master en Droit from Paris Descartes University in France, an LL.M. from Saarland University in Germany. The conclusion of his doctoral thesis is expected this very year.

Nadav Knaan | LLB (2006) and LLM (2008) in the Hebrew University of Jerusalem (Law Faculty), PhD candidate in Haifa University (Faculty of Law). Served as a law clerk for 6 years in the Jerusalem District Court, and currently works as a legal advisor in the Israeli Ministry of Justice.

Inbal Blau | A PhD candidate at the Zvi Meitar Center for Advanced Legal Studies at Tel Aviv University (TAU). Her dissertation, written under the supervision of Professors Neta Ziv and David Schorr, examines the socio-legal aspects of compensation mechanisms of mass body damage events in Israel through an historical perspective. She earned both her LLB and LLM degrees from the Faculty of Law at TAU. Her Master thesis, written under the supervision of Professors Neta Ziv and Danny More, addressed social and legal aspects of the Tinea Capitis (Ringworm) radiation treatment affair in Israel.
Roman Law in Transition

Sunday 10:00-11:30 | Room 307

Rachele Hassan (Chair), Tel Aviv University, Israel

- Dmitry Poldnikov, Higher School of Economics, Moscow, Russia
  Roman Law, Academic Debates, and the Three Transitions of Private Law in Europe

- Silvia Schiavo, University of Ferrara, Italy
  Roman Law in Transition. Cives but Peregrini: Expulsions of ‘Strangers’ in Late Empire

- Marton Ribary, The University of Manchester, UK
  Setting a New Abstract Framework for Delicts in Justinian’s Institutes (533 CE)

- Oliver Unger, Max Planck Institute for Comparative and International Private Law, Hamburg, Germany
  "That Corpses May not Remain Unburied": The Role of the Actio Funeraria in the Transition from Human Body to Corpus or Cadaver

---

Dmitry Poldnikov | Graduated from Moscow State University (major in medieval history), defended the thesis in 2005 on the contractual doctrines of the Glossators of Bologna (at the Institute of History, Russian Academy of Sciences). Affiliations: researcher at Moscow State University and Lecturer at Higher School of Economics; Research interests: doctrinal history of contract law in the ius commune and history of jurisprudence.

Silvia Schiavo | Silvia Schiavo got her PhD in Roman Law at University of Ferrara (2002), where she worked as Researcher. Since November 2014 she is Associate Professor of Roman Law at the Faculty of Law of University of Ferrara. Her research interests include Roman Criminal Law, Late Antiquity, Byzantine Law.

Marton Ribary | Marton Ribary read Philosophy with Classics and Hebrew in Budapest (MA), and studied Second Temple Judaism and Early Christianity in Oxford (MPhil). Before starting his PhD in Manchester, he studied Rabbinics in Nottingham and Jerusalem. Marton’s doctoral project focuses on analytic thinking in Rabbinic and Justinianic legal sources with a case-study on the law of delicts.

Rachele Hassan | Studied Law at the University “La Sapienza” in Rome (graduated cum laude 2005) and completed her PhD in History and Comparative Law, at the University “Roma Tre” in Rome and University “Uned” in Madrid (2010) with a thesis on Roman Law and Poetry. Her field of interest and research is Roman Law and Latin Literature. She received a post-doctoral scholarship at the Faculty of Law, under the supervision of Prof. Nili Cohen, at Tel Aviv University, where she was previously awarded a postdoctoral scholarship in Classical Studies (2012-2014). In 2013 she won the Dan David Prize for Young Researchers, in the field of Past- Classics, The Modern Legacy of the Ancient World. She has just published a book on poetry and law in Horace.
Medieval Transitions
Sunday 12:00-13:30 | Room 303

Valerio Massimo Minale (Chair), Università Commerciale "Luigi Bocconi", Milano, Italy

- Benoit Alix, University Panthéon-Assas (Paris II), France
  The Institution of vir idoneus from Two Constitutions of the Fourth Lateran Council (1215): Bishop's Assistants for the Cura Animarum

- Tirza Kelman, Ben Gurion University of the Negev, Israel
  R. Joseph Caro’s Writings as a Moment of Transition in the History of Jewish Law

- Zoe Cunningham, University of Exeter, UK
  ‘The Customs of Other Countries:’ The Influence of Italian Customs on the Transition of French Jurisprudence in the 15th Century

- Paweł Dziwiński, Jagiellonian University, Poland
  Ostsiedlung or Transition of German Law? Legal Perspective on Settlement According to German Law in Medieval Poland

Benoit Alix | I am student in the University Panthéon-Assas (Paris II). I am a jurist, originally, in Public Law. Later, I chose to study History of Law (Master 2 in France). Now, I am preparing a PhD in history of law, more precisely in Canon and Roman Law. My PhD’s subject is: The notion of judex ordinarius in the Middle Ages (VIth-XVth century). My subject is principally institutional and theoretical but with some influences in the ordo judiciarius.

Tirza Kelman | Ph.D. candidate at the Goldstein-Goren Department of Jewish Thought, Ben-Gurion University. Advisor: Dr. Rami Reiner. Thesis title: “I Shall Create Halakhic Ruling… for that is the objective”: The Dimension of Halakhic Ruling in Joseph Caro’s Beit Yosef”. (M.A. in Jewish thought, the Goldstein-Goren Department of Jewish Thought, Ben-Gurion University. Thesis title: “The Use Of Ashkenazi Decisors In The Beit Yosef, Yore Dea183- 200 as a Case Study”. Advisor: Dr. Rami Reiner. B.A in Humanities, The Open University.)

Zoe Cunningham | I was awarded an honours degree in history by the University of Aberdeen in 2011 and subsequently received an MRes in Socio-Legal Research from Exeter in 2013 before commencing a PhD in law at the same institution. My supervisor is Professor Anthony Musson, co-director of the Bracton Centre for Legal History Research and I am funded by the Economic and Social Research Council.

Paweł Dziwiński | Paweł Dziwiński, studying law at master degree level at Faculty of Law Jagiellonian University; also graduate historian at bachelors degree level Faculty of History Jagiellonian University. Scientific interests: social history, history of canon law, history of tolerance in Poland (especially social and legal status of religious minorities), history of Crusaders States in Latin East.

Valerio Massimo Minale | Was born in Neaples, Italy, on the 23th of May, 1979. He achieved the Master’s Degree in Law at the State University of Milan in 2004 and the PhD in Byzantine History at the Eastern University of Neaples in 2009; since 2012 he has a grant at the Business University Luigi Bocconi of Milan, where he teaches “Trade Roman Law”. He is author of a monograph about the imperial legislation against Manichaeism in Late Antiquity and of several articles, often in English, especially on Byzantine law. He lives in Neaples.
Economy, Society and Law (Early modern)
Sunday 12:00-13:30 | Room 307

Anat Rosenberg (Chair), The Interdisciplinary Center (IDC) Herzliya, Israel

- James McComish, Australia

- Jan Jerzy Sowa, University of Warsaw, Poland
  Transition from Domain State to Tax State – a Polish-Lithuanian Case: Law, Taxes and State Finances in Early Modern Poland-Lithuania (1563–1717)

- Valeria Belloni, Università Commerciale Luigi Bocconi, Italy
  Guilds and Merchants’ Loss of Self-Government in Spanish Milan: A Side Effect of the Political Transition

- Stephen Bogle, University of Edinburgh, UK
  The Reception of Stair’s Theory of Contract, 1661-1751: From ‘Godly Rule’ to ‘Municipal Law’

---

James McComish | A graduate of the University of Melbourne and the University of Oxford. He is currently a solicitor practising in commercial litigation in Melbourne, Australia. Until recently, he taught commercial law and legal history at the University of Cambridge.

Jan Jerzy Sowa | M.A. – born in 1989, graduate of Law and History and Ph.D. student at University of Warsaw, he is interested in constitutional and legal history of Polish-Lithuanian Commonwealth in the early-modern period. He is working on his doctoral thesis regarding courts martial and military discipline in Polish army at the turn of 17th and 18th century.

Valeria Belloni | In November 2009 I obtained the Ph.D. in Legal History, Università degli Studi di Milano, Scuola di Dottorato in Scienze giuridiche, and from November 2010 I was researcher with grant in Legal History, Università Commerciale Luigi Bocconi.

Stephen Bogle | A Lecturer in Private Law at the University of Glasgow. He is a qualified solicitor (non-practicing), and before entering the legal profession read Philosophy at the University of Edinburgh. He is in the final year of his PhD at the University of Edinburgh.

Anat Rosenberg | An assistant professor at the Radzyner School of Law, The Interdisciplinary Center (IDC) Herzliya. She has written on Victorian liberalism and contract in law and literature, and is currently working on a cultural history of consumer law in late nineteenth- and early twentieth century England.
When Code Napoleon Traveled

Sunday 12:00-13:30 | Room 304

Myriam Feinberg (Chair), Tel Aviv University, Israel

- Hugo Beuvant, University of Rennes 1, France
  Translate French Speech from the Legislature of the Year III in the Neapolitan Republic of 1799

- Levi Cooper, Tel Aviv University, Israel
  The Codification Turn: Napoleon and Jewish Legal Writing

- Piotr Pomianowski, University of Warsaw, Poland
  Law at the Turn of Epochs and Cultures: Problems of Reception of French Law in Poland

- Tomasz Krolasik, University of Warsaw, Poland
  Between the Old and the New: Problems of Legal Practice in Poland after Enforcing the French Code de Procédure Civile during the Napoleonic Era

---

Hugo Beuvant | Currently a PhD researcher at Rennes 1 University - Faculty of Law, under the supervision of Professor Sylvain Soleil. His research focuses on the sister republic patriots to see how they use the French legal model. He also teaches classes of History of legal sources and History of law after 1789.

Levi Cooper | Originally from Melbourne, Australia and currently a postdoctoral fellow in Tel Aviv University’s Faculty of Law. Levi’s research focuses on the history of Jewish law in the late modern period. Levi’s most recent work explores the impact of the surrounding legal culture on the Jewish legal system, and the interplay between different norm-generating media particularly the role of hasidic tales.

Piotr Pomianowski | Was born in 1983 in Warsaw (Poland). He is an assistant professor at the Institute of the History of Law – Faculty of Law and Administration, University of Warsaw. He graduated from the University of Warsaw and got his MA degree in law, social sciences as well as political sciences. He obtained a PhD degree in law in 2012. In 2013, he passed a bar exam and started the practice as a legal adviser.

Tomasz Krolasik | A PhD student at the Faculty of Law and Administration at the University of Warsaw, a graduate from the College of Interdisciplinary Humane and Social Studies at the University (M.A. in law, B.A. in history), Master professionnel de Droit des affaires, spécialité Droit français et européen des affaires, French and European Law Centre at University of Warsaw and University of Poitiers. In his research he has focused on 19th century French Private Law, French enforcement proceedings law in Poland and constitutionalism (French Second Empire).

Myriam Feinberg | Currently a postdoctoral fellow with the ERC-funded Global Trust Project at the Buchmann Faculty of Law, Tel Aviv University. Her research focuses on international counterterrorism and international organizations and issues of sovereignty. She has also conducted research on extraordinary renditions. She was previously Visiting Lecturer in French law at King’s College London. She obtained a License de droit from the Université Panthéon-Assas in Paris, an LL.M. in international law from Trinity College Dublin, and a PhD from the Institute of Advanced Legal Studies in London.
Early Modern Political Struggles
Sunday 14:30-16:00 | Room 303

Stefanie Pletz (Chair), Martin Luther University, Germany

- Kacper Górski, University of Kraków, Poland
  The Role of Starost in Polish Judicial System at the turn of the 16th and the 17th Centuries

- Lukasz Golaszewski, University of Warsaw, Poland
  Transformations of the Catholic Church Maintenance in Early Modern Poland: Controversies over the Tithe and the Meaning of Statutory Law

- Iris Lellouche, Université Lille 2, France
  From the Spanish Legislation to the French Legislation: The Transition of the Legislation Against the Protestants of the North of France (end of the 17th century)

- Rafal Kaczmarczyk, University of Warsaw, Poland
  The Legal Status of Tatars in Polish Territories between 14th and 20th Centuries

---

Kacper Górski | I am a 5th year student of law master degree at the Jagiellonian University. I am the president of Student Learned Society of State and Law History at the Faculty of Law and Administration. My interests concern old-Polish apicultural law, criminal law and noblemen’s courts proceedings, as well as the Polish-Lithuanian Commonwealth administration system in modern centuries.

Lukasz Golaszewski | I’m a PhD student at the Faculty of Law and Administration of the University of Warsaw. My interests: history of the old-Polish law in 16th-18th centuries, history of the Magdeburg law in Poland in 16th-18th centuries, history of canon law in Poland in the 16th-18th centuries.

Iris Lellouche | PhD student in Legal history since November 2011. I am preparing a thesis about the repression of the Protestant religion in the North of France in the 17th and 18th centuries. Therefore, I study the legislation and judgments against Protestants in this region during this period.

Rafal Kaczmarczyk | A PhD student at the Faculty of Law and Administration at the University of Warsaw from 2014 and a student at the College of Interdisciplinary Humane and Social Studies at the University of Warsaw from 2009. In his research he has focused on confessional law, constitutionalism, history of law, human rights and political systems.

Stefanie Pletz | I am a PhD student, specialising in Transnational Economic Law, Critical Legal Theory, public international law and EU law. My academic background is in economics, history and law. I publish mainly in the area of EU Law and critical legal theory.
Codification – from Common to Civil Law and Back

Sunday 14:30-16:00 | Room 307

Maarten Vankeersbilck (Chair), Ghent University, Belgium

- Miljana Todorovic, University of Belgrade, Serbia
  Relicts of Transition: The Remnants of Ottoman Law in the 1844 Serbian Civil Code

- Hesi Siimets-Gross, University of Tartu, Estonia
  Baltic Law in Transition: – Stagnation in modernized Form?

- Paola Aurucci, State University of Milan, Italy
  Israel from Common Law to Civil Law: Israeli Civil Code, Dream or Reality?

- Therence Carvalho, University of Rennes 1, France
  The Physiocratic Reforms of Commercial Law and Tax Law in Baden under the Reign of Charles Frederick during the Second Half of the Eighteenth Century

Miljana Todorović | Born on 1983 in Belgrade. Graduated from Law Faculty University of Niš. On 2008 enrolled doctoral studies at Law Faculty University of Belgrade. In this moment, preparing a PhD titled “The tapu system as an Ottoman Heritage in the South Slavic Legal Systems”. From 2008 working as teaching assistant at Law Faculty University of Niš.

Hesi Siimets-Gross | I have studied at University of Tartu and finished my PhD thesis in 2011 with the work about Reception of Roman Law in Baltic Provinces of Russian Empire in 19th Century. During my studies I have had several shorter and longer stays in Germany and Finland. From 2002 I have been teaching in University of Tartu the subject of Roman law, which is obligatory and sometimes Legal Argumentation and Legal Ethnology course.

Paola Aurucci | In 2008 Law Degree at University of Insubria (Varese and Como) and exchange student in 2007 at Paul M. Herbert Law School – Louisiana State University in 2007 to write the thesis “Liability for environmental harm: comparison between Italian and US legal systems”. Supervisor: Professor Barbara Pozzo, Olivier Moreteau and Kenneth Murchison. Visiting Research Student at the Rothberg International School of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem in 2011-12 and Ph.D in Comparative Law at State University of Milan with the thesis “The Israeli Civil Code – Law and Language for a Code in a Mixed Jurisdiction”. In 2013-14 Postdoctoral fellowship in Bar Ilan University with a 8 months scholarship offered by Israeli Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Therence Carvalho | Graduated from the Master 2 (LL.M.) in Legal History of the University of Rennes 1, Thérence Carvalho prepares since september 2012 a Ph.D thesis, under the direction of the professor Anthony Mergey, about the circulation and the reception of the physiocratic model in the Europe of the Enlightenment. As Contractual Ph.D, he also teaches the tutorial classes of History of legal sources at the Faculty of Law and Political Science of the University of Rennes 1.

Maarten Vankeersbilck | Graduated as Master in Law (Ghent, 2011) and took a specialized Master in European and International Law (VUB, 2012). From 1 October 2012 on, he works as an academic assistant at the Ghent Legal History Institute, where he focuses on the codification and development of civil procedure in Belgium, under the direction of Prof. D. Heirbaut.
Criminal Law in Transition

Sunday 14:30-16:00 | Room 304

Omer Aloni (Chair), Tel Aviv University, Israel

- Jonathan Nash, College of Saint Benedict & Saint John's University, New York, USA
  "Unquiet Spirits" and the Transition to Incarceration in the Early United States

- Krzysztof Chmielewski, Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań, Poland
  The Reforms of Polish Penitentiary System in the Years 1918-1939

- Ronnie Bloemberg, University of Groningen, Netherlands
  The Reform of the Criminal Law of Evidence in the Netherlands 1760-1860

- Ziv Bohrer, Bar Ilan University, Israel
  One Transition Too Many: International Criminal Law's Millennium of Forgotten History and Its Post-WWII Pretermission

---

Jonathan Nash | An Assistant Professor of History at the College of Saint Benedict and Saint John's University (Minnesota, USA). He is working on a manuscript, tentatively titled “An Incarcerated Republic: Prisoners, Reformers, and the Penitentiary in the Early United States, 1790-1860,” that analyzes the actions of prisoners and daily life inside Pennsylvania and New York state prisons.

Krzysztof Chmielewski | Graduate of the Faculty of Law and Administration of the University of Warsaw. PhD Candidate in the Chair of history of political systems and law (Faculty of Law and Administration of the Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań). Member of the Polish Penitentiary Society and the Scientific Association Collegium Invisibile. Author of the publications pertaining to the history of criminal law, history of the Polish prison system and criminal law.

Ronnie Bloemberg | I am 25 years old and was born in the Dutch town of Apeldoorn. After studying Civil Law and Modern History at the University of Groningen, I started my promotion study in January 2014. The subject of my research is the development of the modern criminal law of evidence.

Ziv Bohrer | An Assistant-Professor at Bar-Ilan University-Faculty of Law. He did his PhD at Tel Aviv University, Faculty of Law and was a visiting scholar at the Hebrew University and Michigan University. His main areas of research are international criminal law and IHL.

Omer Aloni | I am a Ph.D. Candidate at the Zvi Meitar Center for Advanced Legal Studies, the Buchman Faculty of Law, Tel Aviv University. I hold LL.M. with magna cum laude, as well as LL.B. and B.A. in general history with magna cum laude; all of them at Tel Aviv University. My LL.M. thesis, which was written under the supervision of Prof. Ron Harris, dealt with Orientalist reflections in early Israeli law. In my Ph.D. dissertation I join the renaissance surroundings the study of the League of Nations during the last decade, as I focus the environmental aspects and perspectives of the institution. I write this study under the supervision of Dr. David Schorr. Areas of research: law and history, law and society, and history of international law.
Socialist Law in Eastern Europe
Monday 9:30-11:00 | Room 304

Dina Moyal (Chair), Tel Aviv University, Israel

- Dovile Sagatiene, Lithuania
  The Failure of Soviet Legal Transplants in Lithuania during Stalin Rule?

- Milos Vukotic, University of Belgrade, Serbia
  Civil Law in the Transition to Socialism: Court Practice After the Abrogation of Civil Legislation in Socialist Yugoslavia

- Jakub Pokoj, Jagiellonian University, Serbia
  From Capitalism to Stalinism. Transition of Polish Law of Obligations in the Stalinist Period (1948-1956)

- Nikol Zilha, University J. J. Strossmayer in Osijek, Croatia
  Croatian Property Law between Tradition and Transition: A Revival of a Roman Principle ‘Superficies Solo Cedit’

---

Dovile Sagatiene | Currently working as legal adviser to the Department of Legal Analysis and Review at the Supreme Court of Lithuania. She defended her thesis about soviet courts in Lithuania in 1940-1953 in 2013 in Mykolas Romeris university. At the moment Dovilė Sagatienė is trying to develop the researches about Soviet law in other Baltic states.

Milos Vukotic | Finished undergraduate studies at the University of Belgrade Faculty of Law in 2014, currently studying on a master course in Comparative Legal Tradition at the same faculty. Working as a teaching assistant for Comparative Legal Tradition since 2014.

Jakub Pokoj | Fifth-year student of master’s degree studies in law, vice-president of Students Scientific Association of History of State and Law at the Department of Law and Administration of Jagiellonian University.

Nikol Žiha | An Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Law in Osijek, where she teaches Roman private law. She was awarded a doctoral research fellowship from the Austrian Ministry for Science and Research at the Institute for Roman Law and Ancient Legal History at the Faculty of Law in Vienna. In 2012 she completed her Postgraduate Studies of Civil Law Sciences at the Faculty of Law in Zagreb and defended her doctoral theses Fenus Nauticum as a Precursor of Insurance Law. She worked at Osijek County Court and was appointed a permanent court interpreter for German language. Her areas of research and professional interests are: Roman private law, European private law and European legal history.

Dina Moyal | Holds an LLB degree from Tel Aviv University and a PhD degree in history from Stanford University. She teaches courses on Soviet history and the history of the Soviet legal system at Tel Aviv University. Her research interests include Soviet post-Stalinist history and the relations between the political and the legal spheres in totalitarian regimes.
Histories of International Law

Monday 9:30-11:00 | Room 307

Doreen Lustig (Chair), Tel Aviv University, Israel

- Constance d'Ornano, University Paris II Panthéon-Assas, France
  How Doctrine Confronted a Legal Transition and Fostered Another One: An Inquiry into Ransom Insurances in France, XVIIth-XXIst Centuries

- Inge Van Hulle, Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, Belgium
  Prelude to the Scramble for Africa: West African and European International Law in Transition (1807-1830)

- Rotem Giladi, Hebrew University, Israel
  The Past, Present and Future of the Jewish Yearbook of International Law

- Omer Aloni, Tel Aviv University, Israel
  'The Humanitarian Monster': The League of Nations, the Birth of International Law, and the Campaign against Diseases and Plagues, 1919-1939

Constance d’Ornano | First year PhD student. PhD topic: “Ransom from the end of Antiquity to XVIIIth century” supervised by Professor Philippe Cocâtre-Zilgien and Professor Olivier Descamps, at University Paris II Panthéon-Assas, Institute of History of Law.

Inge Van Hulle | Currently a Phd researcher at KU Leuven, Belgium under the supervision of Prof. Randall Lesaffer (KU Leuven – University of Tilburg). Her project, funded by the Flanders Research Foundation, examines the role of Britain's imperial policy in the development of international law in Africa (1815-1885).

Rotem Giladi | His research focuses on the history of the laws of war and of human rights. Published in the European Journal of International Law, The International History Review, and elsewhere

Omer Aloni | I am a Ph.D. Candidate at the Zvi Meitar Center for Advanced Legal Studies, the Buchman Faculty of Law, Tel-Aviv University. I hold LL.M. with magna cum laude, as well as LL.B. and B.A. in general history with magna cum laude; all of them at Tel-Aviv University. My LL.M. thesis, which was written under the supervision of Prof. Ron Harris, dealt with Orientalist reflections in early Israeli law. In my Ph.D. dissertation I join the renaissance surroundings the study of the League of Nations during the last decade, as I focus the environmental aspects and perspectives of the institution. I write this study under the supervision of Dr. David Schorr. Areas of research: law and history, law and society, and history of international law.

Doreen Lustig | Has been a member of the Faculty of Law since 2012. She works on the theory of international law drawing on legal theory, political theory and history. Dr. Lustig teaches courses on corporations in the transnational context, history and theory of international law and runs workshops on legal History and International Law. She is currently working on a book entitled: The Business of International Law 1870-1954. Dr. Lustig received a joint B.A.-LL.B. (majoring in sociology and anthropology) from Tel Aviv University and earned an LL.M. (2007) and J.S.D. (2012), both from New York University (NYU). As part of her doctoral studies at NYU, she was a Hauser Research Scholar and fellow of the Institute of International Law and Justice (IILJ). She recently received the Israel Science Foundation (ISF) grant for her research on Armed Agents: International Humanitarian law as a Mechanism of Governance (with Prof. Eyal Benvenisti and Dr. Amichai Cohen).
Legal Theory in Historical Context
Monday 11:30-13:00 | Room 304

Merike Ristikivi (Chair), University of Tartu, Estonia

- Bettine Jankowski, University of Konstanz, Germany
  ‘Li’ versus law? – The influence of Confucianism and Legalism on the Early Development of the Chinese Empire

- Hugo B. Lafreniere, McGill University, Canada
  A Genealogy of Radical Pluralism

- Franz L. Fillafer and Magdalena Malecka, Polish Academy of Sciences & European University Institute, Italy
  Law and ‘Human Nature’: From Natural Drives to Behavioral and Cognitive Science

Bettine Jankowski | After a degree in law Bettine Jankowski is working on her PhD in Legal History at the University of Konstanz. Her work is part of the ANF/DFG project 'JuriLog' concerning the connection between Law and Logic.

Hugo B. Lafreniere | Finishing a B.C.L./LL.B. at McGill University. He was a student fellow at Paul-André Crépeau Centre for Private and Comparative law and his now doing research at the Center for Intellectual Property Policy. His research interests are at the crossroad of legal pluralism and virtue ethics.

Franz Leander Fillafer | A Max Weber Fellow at the European University Institute (EUI) at San Domenico di Fiesole. His work to date has mainly focused on the intellectual history of eighteenth and nineteenth century Europe, as well as on the history of the humanities and of legal culture in the twentieth century.

Magdalena Malecka | I am a Max Weber Postdoctoral Fellow in Law (2013 – 2015) at the European University Institute in Florence. I am also affiliated with the Institute of Philosophy and Sociology, Polish Academy of Sciences in Warsaw, where I defended PhD in philosophy in December 2013. I work at the intersection of modern and contemporary philosophy, philosophy of science, legal theory, general methodology, social and behavioural sciences. Currently I'm preoccupied with a question how scientific findings and views on nature change and transform legal and political institutions. I try to approach this topic from a philosophical, methodological, and historical perspective.

Merike Ristikivi | Has studied law (PhD 2010) and classical philology (MA 2006). She is currently a docent of history of law in faculty of law, University of Tartu. Her major research interests are legal language and terminology, Roman law. She is the author of the textbook Latin for Lawyers and co-author of the Latin-Estonian Legal Dictionary.
Legal Transplants and Colonization
Monday 11:30-13:00 | Room 307

Assaf Mond (Chair), Tel Aviv University, Israel

- Geetanjali Srikantan, Tel Aviv University, Israel
  Colonial Knowledge in Legal Transitions: Analyzing the Regulation of Hindu Temples as Places of Worship in British India

- Alexis Siemon, Princeton University, New Jersey, USA
  Bringing Law Across the Straits: County Judges and the Spread of Chinese Law in 18th Century Taiwan

- Verena Steller, Goethe University, Frankfurt, Germany
  The High Treason Trial against the Manipur Princes in 1891. On Imperial Sovereignties, International Law and Indian Constitutionalism, c.1870-1895

- Kriti Sharma, India
  Tracing Lives of Migrant Tribal Women from Chotanagpur (1851-present)

---

Geetanjali Srikantan | A post doctoral fellow at Zvi Meitar Centre for Advanced Legal Studies and the David Berg Foundation Institute for Law and History. She is trained as lawyer but received her doctorate in cultural studies from the Centre for the Study of Culture and Society, Manipal University, India.

Alexis Siemo | A PhD candidate in the Princeton University Department of History. Her research deals with Qing dynasty law and local government. She is currently writing her dissertation on judicial authority in 18th century China, drawing on her archival research in Beijing and Taipei over the previous year.

Verena Steller | A researcher at the Goethe University, Frankfurt (Germany), where she has also been a member of the interdisciplinary Cluster of Excellence on the “Formation of Normative Orders”. Her research focuses on legal history, imperial history, international relations and the cultural history of diplomacy.

Kriti Sharma | Associated with Council for Social Development, Hyderabad, India as a Legal Researcher. Over the last two years she has been working on legal sensitization of ‘Koya’ and ‘Chenchun’ tribal communities in the state of Telangana as part of a Ford Foundation project which includes training tribal advocates, handling live cases and para legal programs. A significant focus has also been on raising awareness in law schools through designing constitutional law course on tribal questions, organizing national moot and workshops. As a follow up to her work, a ‘Practice Guide to Tribal Advocacy’ will be published this summer.

Assaf Mond | A Ph.D. student at the Zvi Yavetz School of Historical Studies in Tel Aviv University. His Ph.D. dissertation, which he is currently writing under the supervision of Dr. Iris Rachamimov, is titled: “The Changing Urban Space of Great War London, 1914-1918”. His thesis, which was also written under the supervision of Dr. Rachamimov, was titled: “Zeppelinoephobia: The Fear and Fascination in face of the Zeppelin Raids on Britain during the First World War”.
Ideology, Totalitarianism, and Law

Monday 14:00-15:30 | Room 304

Anat Plocker (Chair), Haifa University, Israel

- Benjamin Bukor, University of Vienna, Austria
  Civil Law and Ideology: The Transformation of Austrian Paternity Law 1938-1945

- Dina Moyal, Tel Aviv University, Israel
  Law and Revolution: The Challenge of Socialism in Russia

- Jaroslaw Kuisz, University of Warsaw, Poland
  Communist Show Trials as Presented to the Wide Audience on Cinema Screens in Poland, 1949-1953.

Benjamin Bukor | Studied law and history. He works as Research assistant (prae doc) at a project on Austrian Civil Law Jurisdiction under the Nazi Regime (University of Vienna/Austrian Science Fund).

Dina Moyal | Holds an LLB degree from Tel Aviv University and a PhD degree in history from Stanford University. She teaches courses on Soviet history and the history of the Soviet legal system at Tel Aviv University. Her research interests include Soviet post-Stalinist history and the relations between the political and the legal spheres in totalitarian regimes.

Jaroslaw Kuisz | Ph.D., an Assistant Professor (adjunct) at the Faculty of Law and Administration, University of Warsaw, and Chercheur associé étranger in Institut d’histoire du temps present in Paris, France; in 2014: a visiting scholar at the University of Chicago at the personal invitation of Prof. Martha Nussbaum (2014).

Anat Plocker | Specializes in modern eastern European history. She earned her PhD in history from Stanford University. She is fellow at the University of Haifa and teaches at the Interdisciplinary Center in Herzliya. Her research focuses on the communist regimes in Eastern Europe, their relations to Jews, and the ideology and politics of Holocaust commemoration. Dr. Plocker has published her work in leading journals in the field.
Panel no. 14

Israel: From Mandate to State
Monday 14:00-15:30 | Room 307

Yael Braudo-Bahat (Chair), Tel Aviv University, Israel

- Anat Stern, Tel Aviv University, Israel
  From Militia to Regular Army – Transitions in the Legal System of the IDF during the 1948 War

- Nimrod Hagiladi, Haifa University, Israel
  The Black Market in Israel and the Legacy of the British Mandate: Was 1948 a Turning Point?

- Noa Kwartaz-Avraham, Sapir Academic College, Israel
  The Construction of the Israeli Legislative Process: 1948-1951

- Gal Amir, Haifa University, Israel
  Article 65A of the Palestine Order in Council – The Road not Taken

---

Anat Stern | A lecturer at the Command and Staff College of Israel Defense Force (IDF), a member of the Center for Military Studies in the IDF, and a teaching fellow at the International Liberal Arts Program at Tel Aviv University. Dr. Stern specializes in Military and Legal Israeli history. Her doctoral dissertation from 2011 is titled "The Legal System of the IDF during the 1948 War: Creation and implementation". Previously she was a post doctoral Mosse Fellow at the University of Wisconsin and a teaching fellow at the School of History of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

Nimrod Hagiladi | PhD, a lecturer at the Command and Staff College, Israel Defense Force (IDF), a member of the Center for Military Studies in the IDF and a teaching fellow at the international program of Israel Studies, Haifa University. Dr. Hagiladi specializes in Social and Military Israeli History. He received his PhD from the Hebrew University of Jerusalem in 2012 and his dissertation is entitled „The Israeli society and the Black Market: from World War II to the early 1950's“.

Noa Kwartaz-Avraham | An advisor and teaching assistant at the legislation clinic, Sapir Academic College, and a research fellow at the Public Interest Law Program, Tel-Aviv University. Noa holds a B.A in Governmental Studies and an LL.M from the Interdisciplinary Center, Herzliya.

Yael Braudo-Bahat | A Ph.D. candidate at the Zvi Meitar Center for Advanced Legal Studies, Buchmann Faculty of Law, Tel Aviv University and the Associate Editor of Theoretical Inquiries in Law. Her research, under the supervision of Prof. Leora Bilsky, focuses on the involvement of Israeli women's organizations in the enactment of the Israeli Spouses Law (Property Relations) in 1973. Along with the historical analysis, she theorizes the connection between the various possible regimes of marital property and the autonomy of the spouses within a functioning family.
Public Law History
Monday 14:00-15:30 | Room 303

Sebastiaan Vandenbogaerde (Chair), Ghent University, Belgium

- Gergely Deli, Constitutional Court of Hungary
  Human Dignity in Transition: The Role of Historical Narratives

- Andrew J Cecchinato, University of Trento, Italy
  Between Transience and Perpetuity: The Living Generation asUsufructuary of Popular Sovereignty in Thomas Jefferson’s Constitutionalism

- Jhuma Sen, O.P. Jindal Global University, India
  Between ‘Activism’ and ‘Pragmatism’: The Changing Narrative of Public Interest Litigation in India and Judicial Meanderings of the Supreme Court

Gergely Deli | An advisor at the Constitutional Court of Hungary and associate professor at Széchenyi István University of Győr. He graduated in Budapest, received a Diploma in English Law from Cambridge University, and an LL.M degree from New York University School of Law. His research interests include roman law and comparative law.

Andrew J Cecchinato | I was born in Italy in 1983 and am currently attending the second year of the Doctoral school in Comparative and European Legal Studies, at the Law Faculty of the University of Trento, where I graduated in 2013, with a dissertation on The Legal Education of Thomas Jefferson.

Jhuma Sen | Teaches law at Jindal Global Law School in India. She teaches and writes on gender and courts, constitutional theory and social movements and law. She is currently writing a book on gender and the Indian Supreme Court in the 1990s.

Sebastiaan Vandenbogaerde | (*1983) Historian (2006) and lawyer (2010). In 2014 he obtained the degree of doctor in law on legal periodicals. His thesis Vectors of law. History of Belgium’s legal periodicals argued that legal journals not only reflect but also shape law. Since 2010, he is a member of the Ghent Institute for Legal History. His interests lay in legal culture and institutional history during both world wars from a legal historian point of view.
Human and Labor Rights

Monday 16:00-17:30 | Room 304

Natalie Cohn Davidson (Chair), Tel Aviv University, Israel

- Filippo Rossi, Università degli Studi di Milano, Italy
  Job in Transition: Ordinary Courts and Labour Law in the Italian Liberal Age

- Bruno Debaenst, Ghent University, Belgium
  The legal Transitions Regarding Workplace Accidents in the Western Industrializing World

- Andreja Katancevic, University of Belgrade, Serbia
  Judiciary in Transition: The Case of Novo Brdo

---

Filippo Rossi | I'm a researcherer grant in Università degli Studi di Milano and Phd in Medieval and Modern Law History (Università degli Studi di Milano – Scuola di Dottorato in Scienze giuridiche). I'm teaching assistant at Università degli Studi di Milano (Law and Political Sciences Faculties), Università degli Studi di Bergamo and Università Commerciale Luigi Bocconi.

Andreja Katancevic | Graduated at the University of Belgrade Faculty of Law in 2007, finished master studies in Roman Law in 2009 and doctoral studies in Roman law in 2013 at the same faculty. Currently working as assistant professor of Roman Law.

Natalie Davidson | A PhD candidate at Tel Aviv University’s Law Faculty. Her dissertation revisits from the perspective of transitional justice landmark human rights cases brought in US courts under the Alien Tort Statute. Natalie is a graduate of the joint LLB-Maitrise program between King’s College London and Université Paris I, and holds an LLM from the LSE.
Vanessa Duss Jacobi, University of Lucerne, Switzerland
Coding Nations: Producing Collective Identity Through Legal Codes in 19th Century Europe and Beyond

Toussaint Réthoré, University of Lille 2, France
Transition Doesn’t Necessarily Mean Rupture: the Case of the Algerian Law after the Decolonization Transition

Ivan Kosnica, University of Zagreb, Croatia
Ius Sanguinis and Ius Soli in Citizenship Law in Croatia-Slavonia (1848-1918)

Christina Reimann, Humboldt University and the Centre Marc Bloch, Germany
The Importance of Nationality and the Integration of Immigrants into Statutory Social Security: A Comparison between France and the Netherlands

Vanessa Duss Jacobi | Studied law at the University of Zurich and obtained her PhD in 2009 with a work in legal theory and legal history on interdependencies between jurisprudence and private law codification in Switzerland. She passed her State Law Attorney’s Licence in 2010. 2009 to 2012 Vanessa, as a post-doc, coordinated an interdisciplinary postgraduate programme and 2012 to 2013 the Interdisciplinary Competence Center in Research overarching all three faculties of University of Lucerne (Theology, Humanities and Social Sciences and Law). Since 2014 she works as a project leader for the introduction of a research information system. She teaches European legal history at University of Mannheim and Tartu and subjects of the fundament of law at University of Lucerne. Research interests: Legal History, Judicial History, Legal Theory, Legal Philosophy, Law and Society Perspectives, Interdisciplinary and Transdisciplinary Approaches

Toussaint Réthoré | A 26 year old PhD student, working at the University of Lille 2 (France) with Florence Renucci. The subject of my thesis is “The French judicial cooperation in Algeria from the independence (1962) to the mid-70’s”. I especially focus on the role of judges who stayed in Algeria, sitting in courts, organising justice administration. I base my work on interviews of those judges and archives analyse.

Ivan Kosnica | Works at the Faculty of Law of the University of Zagreb, currently as senior teaching and research assistant. The title of his PhD thesis was Citizenship in the Kingdom of Croatia and Slavonia from 1848 to 1918. His basic research interest is concentrated on the history of citizenship.

Christina Reimann | I am affiliated to Humboldt-University and the Centre Marc Bloch, both in Berlin. I studied History, Constitutional Law and Political Theory at Sciences Po Paris and at the University of Kent, Canterbury. From 2009 to 2012 I was a member of the research training group "Multilevel constitutionalism" at Humboldt-University, funded by the German Research Foundation. My fields of research are Transnational History, Cultural Constitutional History, Social History of Law, Migration History.

Shlomi Balaban | A PhD candidate at university of Haifa, Faculty of Law. He is currently working on his PhD thesis: “The Rise of the Professional Member of the Knesset: 1948-1969”. He is currently the Research group coordinator in the University of Haifa Law School: Regulating Judges and the Judicial “Production Line”: The Evolution of the Israeli Director of Courts – Historical Analysis and Contemporary Challenges. The Research group is headed by Prof. Amnon Reichman and Dr. Yair Sagy. He earned his LLB and LLM at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, during which he wrote a thesis, titled: ’On the brink of statehood – the internal tribunals in the Cyprus internment camps, 1946-1949’. Research interests: Legal History, Public Law, Legislation, Parliaments.