Call for Proposals Human Rights in Times of Crisis

The Minerva Center for Human Rights at Tel Aviv University is pleased to invite graduate students, doctoral students, and post-doctoral scholars from the Faculty of Law at Tel Aviv University to submit proposals for research grants, as part of our project focused on human rights, international law, the crisis of democracy, and transitional justice.

For the academic year 2024, the center will provide research grants of up to 1000 euros for each selected proposal. These grants aim to foster research excellence in the field of human rights and to assist with various research expenses, both domestically and internationally.

Grants will be awarded competitively based on the research proposals submitted, with proposals anticipated to culminate in a paper or chapter of up to 10,000 words. We encourage submissions that demonstrate innovative, critical, and impactful approaches to advancing scholarship.

- ❖ Amount of the grant: up to 1000 euros.
- ❖ The grant will be awarded in two stages: the first with the notification of the award, and the second with the submission of the final research paper and its approval.
- ❖ In evaluating the proposals, priority is given to doctoral students and post-doctoral scholars who are primarily engaged in research and are not employed elsewhere, or to those who are involved in both teaching and research within an academic environment.
- ❖ Grant recipients will present their research at the Center's workshop, to be held during the 2024-2025 academic year.
- ❖ Grant recipients will submit a report in English summarizing their research and activities within the project.
- ❖ Grant recipients are required to acknowledge the support of the Minerva Center for Human Rights in any future publication resulting from the grant.
- ❖ Grant recipients are expected to take an active part in Minerva Center's events, and will have the opportunity to work in collaboration with senior researchers from Israel and abroad.
- ❖ Research proposals are to be submitted by email to the Minerva Center for Human Rights at the Faculty of Law, and include the following:
  1. Research project summary (up to 1 page, double-spaced) that includes a description of the research topic, the research question, the main issues, methodology, the expected contribution, and the expected scope;
  2. CV;
  3. Contact information for recommendation.

Proposals can be submitted no later than April 30, 2024, to the Minerva Center for Human Rights, Faculty of Law, Tel Aviv University minerva@tauex.tau.ac.il
